Well known for its authentic period designs such as lits bateau, brass and nickel bedsteads and caned models, And So To Bed also has a selection of divans, four-posters, contemporary upholstered and leather beds and headboards, plus own-brand, Vi-Spring and Tempur mattresses. Matching furniture is available for many of its beds and there is a covetable selection of bedlinen, too. Shown here, the Juniper bed, from £850 for a kingsize.

THE SLEEP ROOM

The Sleep Room has a showroom in London's Notting Hill, or you can buy online. The bed collection is small but perfectly formed, with a new Colonial-style India bed, with curves and pretty detailing, in a soft grey painted finish. The rest of the range comprises divans, a guest bed and a Louis bed in Linen with a weathered oak-finish frame. The retro-style bed frames have pared-down lines for a modern country look. Shown here, the Coco bed, from £695 for a double.

NEPTUNE

01793 881144, neptune.co.uk.

Inspired by Carl Larsson, the Swedish painter and Arts & Crafts interior designer, Neptune's recently launched Larsson collection perfectly captures a period Scandinavian look with its carved detailing and hand-dragged and glazed finishes. The Larsson bed has a linen-upholstered headboard and footboard with panels that can be removed for cleaning or re-upholstery. Shown here, the Larsson bed, from £845 for a queensize with low-end footboard.

VI-SPRING

01752 366311, vispring.co.uk.

Vi-Spring's luxury beds have pocket-sprung mattresses hand-made to order in natural materials such as lambswool and cotton, which allow the bed to 'breathe'. Specialist sales advisers at Vi-Spring stockists can help customers choose and specify their own unique bed. The company's latest collection is exclusive to And So To Bed (see above). Shown here, the Sublime Supreme bed, £9,015 for a kingsize; Achilles headboard, £795.

SOFA.COM

0845 400 2222, sofa.com.

Apart from sofas, there is a very good range of beds at Sofa.com, with a mix of divans and bedsteads, two styles of mattress both handmade in Wiltshire and a huge choice of upholstery fabrics. Several of the headboards, in particular Kandahar, Inferno and Dudley, have a quirky, retro feel, especially when covered in richly coloured velvets, as seen on the easy-to-use website. Shown here, the Kandahar bed, upholstered in Biscuit linen and cotton mix, £690 for a kingsize.
