

NEPTUNE'S
PRICES ARE MUCH LOWER THAN YOU
MIGHT SUPPOSE
AT FIRST
GLANCE

Out of this world

NEPTUNE'S CLASSIC DINING AND KITCHEN RANGES OFFER UNPARALLELED STYLE AND OUTSTANDING VALUE FOR MONEY

AFTER EXPERIENCING OVERWHELMING demand for its stylish 'chopping block' and 'island' furniture pieces, Neptune has taken the leap and extended its collection of hand-crafted home furniture into the kitchen arena. Just as you would expect, its delightful new ranges are already rivalling some of the top names in kitchen design. Each one is unique, contemporary and well-thought-out with reassuringly practical construction elements as well as a sophisticated air of classic English architecture. Best of all, Neptune's prices are much lower than you might suppose at first glance.

Despite using the very best in traditional carpentry techniques, and timber sourced from high-quality well-managed resources, the philosophy behind

Neptune is that everyone should be able to afford a beautiful kitchen and dining area, so an enormous effort is made to keep production costs down.

But not to worry - the people at Neptune do not scrimp on design. Every kitchen cabinet is designed to be just as exceptional as any freestanding piece you might have elsewhere in the house, such as a dresser. The passionate commitment of the company's talented team of designers, cabinet-makers and painters is evident every step of the way; they insist on putting themselves in their client's shoes offering unlimited suggestions to help you create the perfect space. They are also constantly dreaming up original new ideas to make Neptune kitchens stand out from the crowd, from sleek curved pieces to clever false facades that would impress even the most discerning of interior designers.

CLOCKWISE FROM TOP 'Henley' kitchen in natural oak, featuring Blum soft-close runners, and Neptune's new 'Buckland' canopy. 'Sheldrake' oval extending table with Lloyd Loom chairs. 'Chichester' refectory table with 'Long Island' linen chairs. 'Chichester' chopping block hand painted in limestone with end-grain top and soft-close central drawer

In terms of durability, all kitchen cabinets are fully framed with super-tight joints set to last a lifetime, so there's no need to worry about overstocking your cupboards, and to ensure that they look immaculate inside as well as out, Neptune has come up with an ingenious zig-zag adjustment system to overcome the unsightly fittings that often come with adjustable shelves. This system is unique to Neptune's collections.

To top it all, Neptune's special paint palettes come in a spectrum of colours that can be used on walls, and on furniture, to ensure all aspects of your kitchen blend together seamlessly. This is particularly useful if you have an eat-in kitchen/dining area.

As touched on earlier, Neptune provides outstanding value for money. Believe it or not, some of its masterpiece kitchens are available for as little as £4,400 - although you would never know it looking at them.

Neptune has partners all over the UK. For more information and to find your nearest stockist, visit www.neptune.co.uk