WHILE THE KITCHEN HAS ALWAYS BEEN THE HEART OF the home, these days it is also something of a showpiece. It's where mothers bake cupcakes and teenagers bang about making fry-ups, but also a space intended for elegant dining and romantic evenings à deux. The people at Neptune understand this, and are passionate about creating spaces that are warm and beautiful yet robust and built to last.

With design influences and traditional detailing stemming from English classic architecture such as early Norman through to the Arts & Craft movement, Neptune kitchens offer the perfect blend of old meets new. Crafted from solid timber using century-old joinery methods, they give off an air of English country chic with a contemporary edge. For example, all Neptune cabinets are fully framed for extra strength and durability and come with soft-close drawers and adjustable shelves as standard. They also provide modern storage solutions to suit any interior, be it a spacious city loft apartment or a cosy coastal bolt hole.

However, the most remarkable thing about a Neptune kitchen is its value for money. Neptune offers quality only previously available in the bespoke kitchen arena, and at a quarter of the price. For more information, and to find your nearest Neptune partner, visit www.neptune.co.uk
